

ANETA GEORGE

VOCALIST · COMPOSER · EDUCATOR

Aneta George is a Paris-based Macedonian vocalist, composer and educator whose music brings the ancient roots of Macedonian song into contemporary jazz. With her quintet Melem, she approaches traditional Macedonian songs as jazz standards while weaving their rhythms, melodies and spirit into original compositions shaped by improvisation.

Born in Skopje and raised in Radishani, Aneta's musical path has taken her from the Balkans to France, Poland, India and South Africa. Her artistic development includes work with musicians and mentors such as Magic Malik, Steve Coleman, Vasil Hadžimanov, Toni Kitanovski and Michele Hendricks.

Her latest album, Eclipses (Release the Kraken, 2025), explores transformation, memory and connection through eight compositions rooted in jazz and Macedonian musical language.

Alongside her work as a performing artist, Aneta teaches jazz voice and ensemble at the American School of Modern Music in Paris.
